KIJKWIJZER REGULATIONS

Introduction

The Netherlands Institute for the Classification of Audiovisual Media (Nederlands Instituut voor de Classificatie van Audiovisuele Media/NICAM), with its registered office in Hilversum, the Netherlands, has the following objective according to its Articles of Association: promoting the provision of information by the entertainment industry itself regarding the potential harmfulness of audiovisual products for young people by means of a content rating system, and any and all actions relating or conducive thereto.

The content rating system employed by the NICAM in order to reach this objective is known as Kijkwijzer.

The following parties are eligible to join NICAM as members: individuals or legal entities operating within the entertainment industry and involved in the production, distribution, release, broadcast and dissemination of entertainment productions. This includes, among other parties, producers and providers of entertainment productions, public and commercial media organisations, cinemas, retailers and representative industry organisations.

The affiliated parties are required to comply with all the provisions contained in these Kijkwijzer Regulations and the corresponding Manual for Kijkwijzer Rating Officers. The basic principle is that all members are bound by the same set of rules.

The Kijkwijzer Regulations were approved by the General Management on November 12th 2019 and will enter into force on 1 January 2020.

C. Definitions

A. General Regulations: Kijkwijzer Rules for Members¹

Article 1 CONTENT RATING

- 1.1 Members are responsible for the format, content, release and broadcasting of their Entertainment Products.
- 1.2 Members will ensure that their Entertainment Products are rated using the Kijkwijzer Content Rating System and are stored in the Database maintained by the NICAM, unless otherwise provided in these Regulations. If an Entertainment Product has previously been rated, Article 2 applies.
- 1.3 Ratings must be assigned at the earliest possible stage, and in any event prior to the release date or airdate of the Entertainment Product.
- 1.4 Members who are responsible for rating Entertainment Products are authorised to rate the Product again, provided they state reasons for this repeated rating. These reasons must be stored with the re-rating in the NICAM Database.

Article 2 PREVIOUS RATINGS

- 2.1 Members are authorised to use previous ratings for Entertainment Products without assigning a new rating, unless
 - a Member can reasonably suspect that this previous rating is incorrect or no longer correct; or
 - this previous rating was assigned at least five years ago at the time of the current release or broadcast.In these cases, Members are required to re-rate the Entertainment Product.
- 2.2 Members may request the Bureau for advice. If the Bureau recommends that a new rating should be assigned, it will contact the Member who issued the previous rating and request that they cease to use this rating. Such recommendations will not prevent an alternative opinion in the Complaints Procedure.
- 2.3 The Coders' Committee may also be asked for advice at a Member's or the Bureau's request.

ARTICLE 3 INFORMATION PROVISION THROUGH THE USE OF PICTOGRAMS

- 3.1 Members will ensure that their Entertainment Products include the appropriate Rating, using the Pictograms approved by the NICAM to denote the various ratings.
- 3.2 When using the Pictograms, Members will generally not assign more than three content ratings in addition to the age rating. This is subject to the rule that the content pictograms which take precedence under the content rating system should be displayed first. The following order of precedence applies: violence (pictogram used: fist); fear/anxiety (pictogram used: spider); sex (pictogram used: two pairs of feet); profanity (pictogram used: shouting figure); discrimination and racism (pictogram used: group of people with one figure displayed in a contrasting colour); and drug and/or alcohol abuse (pictogram used: syringe).

- 3.3 Members will ensure that all Pictograms are displayed in a clearly legible and visible manner. This is done at the following times:
- immediately at the start of the screening or broadcast of the Entertainment Product for a minimum of 5 seconds; or
 - during the full length of the broadcast, if the entire duration of the Entertainment Product is less than 5 seconds.
- 3.4 Members will ensure that all Pictograms are displayed in a clearly legible and visible manner in the following ways:
- a. Pictograms are displayed in black. If the colour of the Pictograms does not contrast sufficiently with the background colour, the edges of the Pictograms will be white.
 - b. For Programmes, Pictograms are displayed in the top right corner of the screen. If this is not possible, the Pictograms are shown in the top left corner of the screen. Pictograms for non-linear Entertainment Products offered are positioned in a clearly visible manner close to the Programme title.
 - c. For both Programmes and previews, the Pictogram has the size of a channel logo. For an image ratio of 16:9, this amounts to approximately 10% of the height of the image.
 - d. Entertainment Productions, Promos excluded, with age ratings of 16 and 18 which are aired linearly contain:
 - for a minimum of five seconds, prior to showing the Entertainment Product, a billboard in which the Pictograms are projected on a full screen, including an audio message;
 - the Pictograms are repeated for a minimum of five seconds after each commercial break;The Pictograms appear on the screen a second time after every 20 minutes if there are no commercial breaks.
 - e. In Promos for Entertainment Products rated 16 or 18 which are to be aired, the Pictograms appear on the screen during the entire Promo.
- 3.5 Members will ensure that the Pictograms are positioned next to all advertising communications (adverts), in print or electronic programme guides/TV listings, catalogues and other information regarding the Entertainment Product.
- 3.6 The Content Rating Manual contains further rules regarding the use of Pictograms.

Article 4 STILLS AND CLIPS

- 4.1 Entertainment Products featuring still images (stills) or clips from another Entertainment Product or games shall be rated as a single production.
- 4.2 As still images or clips are displayed on the screens, the pictograms are shown belonging to the Entertainment Product from which the images or clips were taken.

Article 5 PROTECTIVE MEASURES: CHILD PROTECTION FEATURE AND AIRTIMES

- 5.1 Members who offer their own Child Protection Feature or other technology designed specifically to protect children, must ensure that users can adjust reception such that productions with specific Kijkwijzer Ratings can be viewed only after being unlocked.
- 5.2 Members who do not offer their own Child Protection Features or alternative technology designed specifically to protect children, will endeavour to ensure that users can adjust reception such that entertainment productions with specific Kijkwijzer Rating(s) can only be viewed after being unlocked.

- 5.3 Productions shown on a linear basis will air at the following times:
- a. Entertainment Productions rated 6 and 9 can be aired at any time of the day;
 - b. Entertainment Productions rated 12, 14 or 16 air exclusively between 8:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m.
 - c. Entertainment Productions rated 18 air exclusively between midnight and 6:00 a.m.
 - d. Entertainment Productions rated 16 or 18 will air only if the requirements set out in Article 3.4 d and e are satisfied.
- 5.4 Members will not air any Previews which refer to a Main Product with an age rating of 12, 14, 16 or 18 immediately preceding, during and/or immediately after an Entertainment Production aimed at children with a rating of AL ('General Audiences') or 6. There will be a minimum of five minutes before, during and after the Preview and the Entertainment Production. If the Previews refer to a Main Product with an age rating of 9, the Member will strive not to air this around the same time as an Entertainment Production aimed at children with a rating of AL (General Audiences) or 6. Both immediately before, during, and immediately after the Entertainment Productions concerned, there will be a minimum of five minutes between the Preview and the Entertainment Production.
- 5.5 Previews with an age rating of 16 or 18 will not be aired during Entertainment Productions with ratings of AL (General Audiences), 6, 9 or 12 or during live programmes.
- 5.6 Members are authorised to request exemption from the Bureau for the use of the airtimes, in the following cases:
- a. If the Entertainment Productions are always broadcast protected by a specific technology (usually a PIN), either subject to a fee or free of charge, so as to generally prevent minors from being exposed to these productions; or
 - b. If the Entertainment Productions can be viewed only after the user has explicitly elected to receive these based on an 'open by default' format here from now on. 'Open by default' refers to a set-up where the Entertainment Productions are never broadcast closed behind a specific facility. This is subject to the following terms and conditions:
 - Prior to the airtime of the Entertainment Production, users are adequately informed about any Entertainment Productions which could potentially be harmful to minors by displaying the Pictograms indicating the rating of the Entertainment Productions; and
 - users have the option to lock Entertainment Productions which are potentially harmful to children at any time behind a specific technology (typically a PIN), thereby ensuring that minors cannot generally view such Entertainment Productions, and the user will be clearly informed about this option.

Article 6 PREVIEWS

- 6.1 Members responsible for airing previews must ensure that such previews are rated. Articles 1, 2 and 3 apply to this with full force and effect.
- 6.2 Members are authorised to assign ratings for Promos. In addition, Members are permitted to assess the rating of the Promo in compliance with the Kijkwijzer content rating system or the List of Key Points. This rating – either assessed, or rated and entered in the database – determines when the Promo is to be aired.
- 6.3 When airing Previews, Members will always display the Rating of the Main Product to which the Preview relates. If the rating of the Main Product is not yet known, Members can request an exemption from the Bureau at least three days before the airdate of the Preview from displaying the Pictograms of the Main Product.
- 6.4 If a Member makes a Preview available to a third party to be aired, such Member will ensure that the Rating of the Preview is communicated.
- 6.5 Members who air a Preview use the rating in order to be able to set the airtime and/ or determine during or around which Entertainment Production it is authorised to air this. Articles 5.3, 5.4. and 5.5 art. 14.4 are equally applicable.
- 6.6 If the Member believes the Preview offered by a third party has not been rated or not been rated correctly, the Member will, prior to airing the Preview, request such third party in writing to assign a rating at that time or rate the Preview itself, in order to comply with the foregoing paragraph.

- 7.1 Contrary to Article 1, live and semi-live programmes need not be rated. If the programme is first aired (or aired again) 24 hours after being taped, assigning a rating is required.
- 7.2 In determining the content and airtime of the live or semi-live programme, the Member must take into account the protective measures specified in Article 5.
- 7.3 If previously existing images are used in a live or semi-live programme, the following rules apply:
 - a. the Rating of such existing images determines the airtime and pictograms used for the live and semi-live programme; or
 - b. the Member assesses the previously existing images separately for potential harmfulness to young people, in compliance with the Kijkwijzer content rating system or the List of Key Points; or
 - c. the Member rates the previously existing images independently.The Age Rating of the full live or semi-live Programme is determined by the images receiving the highest evaluation or age rating.

Article 8 SPORTING EVENTS, CONCERT RECORDINGS AND FILM FESTIVALS

- 8.1 Contrary to the provisions of Article 1, the following entertainment productions are exempt from content rating:
 - Non-fictional entertainment products focusing on sporting activities (including martial arts involving people).

- 9.2 The Provider of News and Current Affairs programmes determines what types of images are perceived as shocking to young viewers.
- 9.3 To the extent that previously existing images are used in the entertainment productions specified in this article, Article 7.3 applies mutatis mutandis.

Article 10 TV SERIES

- 10.1 Contrary to the provisions of Article 1, it is sufficient for Members to Rate a TV Series based on a sample, with the proviso that the Member will remain responsible for any broadcast of each episode of the TV Series.
- 10.2 Each season of the TV Series must be rated separately.
- 10.3 Members can determine independently which Entertainment Productions they wish to regard as TV Series.
- 10.4 The rating of the TV Series is determined by the episode with the strictest rating, i.e. which prompted the highest age rating and the corresponding content ratings.
- 10.5 Instructions for conducting this sample are set out in the Content Rating Manual.

Article 11 MUSIC VIDEOS

- 11.1 Music videos must be rated using the Content Rating Form for Music Videos.

Article 14 EXHIBITORS, RENTERS, SELLERS AND LENDERS OF ENTERTAINMENT PRODUCTIONS

- 14.1 Exhibitors, Renters, Sellers and Lenders of Entertainment Productions will endeavour to ensure that Age Ratings are considered when screening, renting, selling or lending Entertainment Products. - 15.7 The Coders' Committee will provide a recommendation to the Member(s) in question within five business days. If a complaint is lodged about the Rating, the Complaints Committee will consider the recommendation of the Coders' Committee when taking disciplinary action.

- 16.2 At the request of the NICAM, the Member will, as soon as possible and in any case within two weeks of receiving the request, make the relevant Entertainment Production available to the NICAM Bureau in a high quality, irrespective of the type of data medium used (i.e. digital or analogue). If this is not possible, the Member will organise a screening during which the Entertainment Product can be viewed.
- 16.3 In all cases, the Member will, at the Bureau's request, make the Entertainment Product available (as soon as this is possible) such that the NICAM can save this in its archives so that it can be used internally (i.e. for educational purposes).

Article 3: COMPLAINTS MEDIATED AND HANDLED BY THE BUREAU

- 3.1 The Bureau is authorised to handle eligible Complaints. If the Bureau believes that a Complaint relating to age categories and/or content categories may be legitimate, it will mediate between the Complainant and the Member. By conducting a trial rating on the Entertainment Product in question, the Bureau will assess the rating and request that the Member amend the rating accordingly within three business days.
- 3.2 The complaints procedure will end if the Member honours the request specified in paragraph 1, unless the Complainant states that it disagrees with the Bureau's opinion and intends to submit the complaint to the Complaints Committee. If a Member fails to honour the request or fails to do so in time, the Complaint will be submitted to the Complaints Committee.

- 3.4 Complaints relating to an Entertainment Product which, at the time of receiving the complaint, had been rated more than three years ago, will generally not be presented to the Complaints Committee. If the Bureau of the NICAM believes the rating is incorrect, or no longer correct, the Bureau will contact the Member with the request to amend the rating within three business days. If the Member fails to amend the rating within three business days, the complaint will be presented to the Complaints Committee after all.
- 3.5 If a complaint relates to a Entertainment Product which is rated using a previous version of the rating form, while the completion of the rating form which is valid at the time of receiving the complaint results in a higher rating, the NICAM Bureau will contact the Member with the request to amend the rating within three business days. If the Member fails to amend the rating within three business days, the complaint will be presented to the Complaints Committee.

COMPLAINTS COMMITTEE

Article 4: IDENTICAL COMPLAINTS

- 5.4. The Complaints Committee will assess all aspects of the Complaint: it will rule on the question as to whether the Member, in disclosing the Entertainment Production to which the Complaint relates, has acted in accordance with all the relevant NICAM regulations.
